Make no mistake: Northern Ireland is up and coming as a Meetings and Incentive destination.

What's driving this success? For such a compact destination, we really pack a lot in. We've been called the espresso of destinations, small but memorable!

Stunning scenery, compact walkable cities, immersive experiences and a continued investment in tourism means Northern Ireland is fast becoming a talked-about destination.

Our visitor experiences include the must-see Titanic Belfast, the largest Titanic visitor attraction in the world, as well as a major screen tourism offering, linked to the global phenomenon that is Game of Thrones®.

Together, our stunning landscape, exquisite built heritage, outstanding facilities, food and drink offering, retail, leisure and infrastructure continue to attract record visitor numbers year on year.

And of course, there's something else – the welcome. It's warm and genuine; and our visitors remember it and value it.

One word sums it all up, and that word is: more.

That's what this guide sets out – how Northern Ireland is delivering a meetings and incentive offer that constantly engages, surprises and delights. And there is always more to do and see.

Come and experience it for yourself!

6 Good reasons to chose Northern Ireland

1. Unique experiences

How can such a small place have so much packed in? It surprises us too, but we're incredibly proud of our plentiful offering. There's UNESCO World Heritage Site the Giant's Causeway, Titanic Belfast, recently named the World's Leading Tourist Attraction, plus the world's number 1 golf course Royal County Down.

We have one of the world's top coastal drives, the only complete walled city in Ireland, and 26 stunningly photogenic Game of Thrones® filming locations and... well, we're just getting started.

There's a lot to do, see and feel in this compact place, and much of it is still relatively undiscovered. Read on for more inspiration.

2. Easy to access

3. Meet the locals

Northern Ireland is the ultimate destination where you can meet the locals, with a range of experiences on offer to interact with local characters. We're known for being friendly and welcoming but what really sets us apart is our willingness to go the extra mile and do more for people. We can't help it, it's in our nature.

The Garrick Bar, Belfast

4. Accommodation

Around 10,000 bedrooms available across a host of hotels, ideal for Incentive and Meetings Programmes. Choose from magnificent luxury hotels, authentic castles, cosy lodges, fun-filled glamping spots, historic homes, indulgent golf and spa resorts, thatched cottages, transparent bubbles... yes, we did say transparent bubbles. Whatever you're looking for, we have it. And more.

Slieve Donard Resort & Spa, Co. Down

Lough Neagh, Co. Londonderry

5. Our food so good

With one of the purest landscapes in the world, Northern Ireland produces genuinely beautiful food including grass-fed beef and lamb, glorious seafood, Armagh apples, Comber potatoes... and then there's unique local treats like griddle breads, fifteens, yellow man, dulse, champ and vegetable roll (a spiced beef sausage!) Having superb produce on the doorstep means we have more than our fair share of award-winning chefs and eateries.

Visitors can indulge in fine dining, snap up quick and quality street food, or head off on one of Northern Ireland's many food and drink tours, taking in craft beer, gin, whiskey, cider, artisan cheeses, succulent oysters, the list goes on... Northern Ireland is foodie paradise.

6. Value for money

You'll be genuinely surprised at how far your budget will stretch in Northern Ireland, with hire spaces much more reasonable than other destinations. Your money goes further whatever you spend it on: whether you want high-end, cosy or quirky, it's affordable. Award-winning food and drink doesn't cost the earth, and experiences and attractions are all remarkably good value for money.

Belfast: A Titanic City

It's all happening in Belfast these days – with world-class attractions, great visitor accommodation, fantastic shopping, excellent restaurants and brilliant nightlife. And with the visitors, the accolades are coming too. In 2017 the city won the Rising Star award in the National Geographic Traveller Reader Awards. Lonely Planet named Belfast joint number-one region to visit in 2018 (along with the Causeway Coastal Route), and Condé Nast Traveller magazine has put us in the top 10 must-see UK cities.

Then of course there's Titanic Belfast – a truly world-class visitor experience named after the world's most famous liner, RMS Titanic, which was built on this very spot.

Named best European attraction and world's leading tourist attraction in 2016, it has already welcomed over three million visitors. From the emerging cultural hub of the Cathedral Quarter to the burgeoning Titanic Quarter, Belfast is a modern European city that excites, with a non-stop energy and above all, a distinctive spirit.

Northern Ireland's capital is a walkable city less than two hours from Dublin Airport by road, or you can fly into either of the city's two airports from 39 destinations.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

Titanic Belfast & Hickson's Point 1

No other Titanic experience comes close. Titanic Belfast is the largest and most authentic Titanic experience in the world and is located right where the famous liner was built and launched over 100 years ago. Titanic Belfast was voted the World's Leading Visitor Attraction in 2016. The event suites offer superb levels of service within state of the art facilities, in natural daylight, with views of Belfast Lough and Cave Hill beyond.

Guests can walk through the atmospheric Titanic galleries, learning about its creation and Belfast's maritime heritage. Programme enhancements include afternoon tea in the Titanic Suite and Discovery Tours of the slipways where the Titanic was built. Maximum capacity for a banquet is 500 guests.

Hickson's Point is inspired by one of the first ship builders in Belfast, and offers an authentic 1900's shipyard public house setting. Located on the spot where Titanic was built, and where Titanic Belfast stands today, this space offers an authentic shipyard experience, traditional hospitality and entertainment.

There are evenings of whiskey tasting, storytelling from the era of the Titanic shipyard builders, tasty heritage food and dancing to traditional music. It's a place for all the senses and all the feels.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

Queen's University Belfast 2

A smart venue for clever types. Designed by Sir Charles Lanyon and opening in 1849, Queen's is one of the oldest universities in the UK and in the top 1% of universities in the world. As a venue for corporate, civic or private functions, the dramatic Victorian architecture and air of learning create a wonderful experience. Guests can even find 19th century graffiti in the cloisters and quadrangle.

Beautiful and atmospheric, The Great Hall is a warm, powerful and theatrical space in the heart of the iconic Lanyon Building and can cater for up to 150 guests. The Sir William Whitla Hall is a magnificent Art Deco-style auditorium and is an ideal venue for up to 350.

Crumlin Road Gaol 3

Built in 1846, this Grade A listed Victorian era prison is now a riveting and sometimes grisly visitor experience documenting over 150 years of Belfast's history. Guided tours allow guests to explore the building's colourful past and gain an insight into the daily lives of prisoners and prison officers over the Gaol's existence.

Hear about the history of the site from when women and children were held within its walls through to the political segregation of republican and loyalist prisoners. Alternatively, walk through the gates after dark to search for paranormal activity on the site which saw 17 men executed.

This unique venue offers some of the most surprising and atmospheric spaces to host an event. Maximum capacity for gala dinners is 200 guests.

Belfast City Hall 4

At Belfast City Hall, right in the heart of the city, private groups can enjoy refreshments in the Lord Mayor's Private Parlour in the company of the Lord Mayor of Belfast.

Built in 1906 to celebrate Belfast's importance, City Hall is the home of Belfast City Council. A guided tour takes visitors behind the scenes and introduces them to a wealth of fascinating characters and facts. They can also visit Titanic Memorial Garden, the only memorial in the world that lists the victims regardless of their class of travel.

Look out for the Belfast City Hall illuminations as they light up the building in a variety of colours and combinations at night, showing off the building's beautiful architectural features.

There are 3 main event spaces where gala dinners and drinks receptions can take place: Reception Room (120 drinks/80 dinner), Banqueting Hall (250 drinks/150 dinner) and the Great Hall (700 drinks/400 dinner).

Belfast Cathedral 5

This is a heavenly venue! With its foundation stone laid in 1899, this iconic building gives the city's vibrant Cathedral Quarter its name. It features many distinctive artworks, dedicated to victims of all wars, as well as numerous fine textiles and carvings. The 40-metre 'Spire of Hope' was recently built above the choir stalls, allowing visitors to view it from the nave.

Private tours can be arranged for your group to see some fascinating things including the Baptistry which is composed of 159,000 individual pieces of glass mosaic that tell the story of creation. The cathedral's unique atmosphere makes it an ideal venue for gala dinners.

SS Nomadic 6

SS Nomadic, the small ship that served as tender to Titanic, is the last remaining White Star Line ship and a piece of unique maritime heritage located within walking distance of Titanic Belfast. The ship is available for exclusive evening hire.

Guests can cross the gangway as a first-class passenger, be warmly welcomed to a champagne reception by the famous character Molly Brown, followed by a White Star Line dining experience. The evening ends with guests learning a traditional ceilidh.

SS Nomadic can cater for lots of events, from drinks receptions to fine dining catering. Max capacity for dinner is 200 guests.

Ulster Folk & Transport Museum 7

Just 15 minutes from the centre of Belfast, this huge outdoor museum allows visitors to experience life as their Northern Irish ancestors would have over 100 years ago: sit next to a peat fire in an old cottage, try out traditional crafts, attend the strict nineteenth century school, walk the cobbled high street, and encounter locals dressed in period costume. They can also hop aboard spectacular locomotives from bygone eras or view an iconic DeLorean.

In addition to the Folk Museum and Transport Galleries, there's Cultra Manor, with grand rooms, original period features and awe-inspiring views. Guests can arrive by period transport and enjoy a vintage afternoon tea on the terrace, lawn games and traditional entertainment. Or they can arrive at the Irish Railway Gallery on a steam train direct from Belfast Central Station before moving down onto the central turntable for a dining experience like no other, or even a traditional ceilidh evening.

Capacities for gala dinner:
Cultra Manor: Kennedy Room 150; Drawing Room 70
Transport Gallery: 300 guests

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

St George's Market <sup>8</sup>

Here, guests can get a real flavour of the people of Belfast. Located in the city centre near the waterfront, the Market was built between 1890 and 1896 and has won numerous local and national titles and awards for its fresh, local produce and great atmosphere.

The Friday Variety Market has nearly 250 stalls selling fruit, vegetables, fish and meat, as well as some antiques and clothes. The Saturday City Food & Craft Market has speciality foods from around the world as well as local flowers, crafts, pottery, glass and metalwork. On Sunday there is a mixture of the Friday and Saturday markets, with an emphasis on local arts and crafts. There is often live music as well.

There is also an opportunity to hire the Market for Gala Dinners and events throughout the year.

Stormont Parliament Buildings <sup>9</sup>

Just 20 minutes from the centre of Belfast, this iconic classical building seats the Northern Irish Assembly and can be seen from lots of vantage points across the city. An impressive 365ft wide (a foot for every day of the year), it's built from stunning white Portland stone and rests on a slope in Belfast's leafy east, seeming to glow in the sun at the end of its mile-long mall.

Spectacular inside and out, this huge and historic venue comes with five elegant meeting and events spaces, catering for 16 up to 300 guests. Beautiful award-winning restaurant on-site, plus 235 acres of estate with walking trails.

'Harbouring' thoughts of an inspired venue? Try HMS Caroline. Built in 1914, HMS Caroline is the only survivor from the world's fiercest naval battle, the Battle of Jutland and it's now a floating museum at Belfast docks, a place where 'shipmates' can experience life as a sailor over 100 years ago.

The team at HMS Caroline can create a super programme whether it's an intimate dinner in the engine room or a high energy scavenger hunt throughout the ship. For a truly unique experience, they can plan in a tour with a local who worked on-board or a behind the scenes experience with the ship-keeper.

This one-of-a-kind venue can host a maximum of 350 people, with dining for up to 150 guests - perfect for both formal and informal events.

Titanic Hotel Belfast 4*

Set sail for glory at this exceptional hotel, housed in the original drawing offices where the Titanic was conceived and designed. It's exquisitely designed, balancing original features with cool modern style. Situated in the heart of the Titanic Quarter, it has 119 bedrooms and offers an unforgettable experience for anyone visiting Northern Ireland.

Drawing Office One can host medium to large-scale functions of every conceivable format. Providing bright and airy cathedral-like space for up to 300 guests, this breath-taking room is where many of the designs for the world's most famous ocean liners were created.

ACCOMMODATION

Culloden Estate & Spa 5*

Six miles outside Belfast city centre and sheltered by the lush green Holywood Hills, this majestic 5 star gothic revival mansion picked up Luxury Hotel of the Year 2017 at the Irish Hotel Awards. Stunning inside and out, the mansion was originally built as an official palace for the Bishops of Down and stands in 12 acres of secluded gardens and woodland. It feels like a rural retreat, but it's just 10-15 minutes from the city and the nearest airport. The hotel has 98 bright, spacious bedrooms including suites, plus an excellent spa, and restaurant options that range from the casual to the very fine. It even has its own traditional Irish Pub, just a short stroll through the garden.

The Culloden offers two gala dinner options: the Stuart Suite, with magnificent views over Belfast Lough and capacity for 500 guests with private entrance and bar facilities, or the Holywood Suite with capacity for 120 guests, private bar and private terrace with access to the manicured gardens.

Rayanne House 5*

A 5 star guest house with 10 bedrooms and private restaurant set within a beautiful old historic property dating from 1883, with views over Belfast Lough. This picturesque place is a few miles from Belfast City Centre, 7 mins from the nearest airport, and right next door to Holywood Golf Club, the home of pro-golfer Rory McIlroy.

Rayanne House was listed in the Top 10 Best Destination Restaurants in Ireland at the Restaurant of the Year Awards 2017, and picked up the Irish Restaurant Association Award for Best Hotel Restaurant and Customer Service 2017. The gourmet breakfast gained the AA Breakfast Award and Egg Cup Award and was described as 'The Best in the Business'.

Guests can experience the unique Titanic Menu, a meticulous recreation of the first-class menu served onboard the Titanic: nine lavish courses of sumptuous delicacies from the Edwardian era.

The Causeway Coastal Route

Lonely Planet loves Belfast and the Causeway Coastal Route, naming them Best in Travel 2018. This is a 200 mile epic driving route taking you along the northern edge of the island, you'll experience gloriously beautiful coastline, pretty fishing villages, ancient sites, ruined castles, luxurious spas, the best local food and more.

The route starts in the Norman town of Carrickfergus, just 30 mins from the capital city of Belfast, and continues around the coast until you reach Derry~Londonderry.

Here's a flavour of what you can expect.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

Giant's Causeway 29

Just over an hour from Belfast, this spectacular UNESCO World Heritage Site is an experience guests simply won't find anywhere else.

There are two explanations for the bizarre landscape, both equally jaw-dropping: some believe mighty volcanoes and flaming oceans of lava beneath the earth's crust cooled to form a vast stone forest of 40,000 basalt columns. Others say it was built by the fearsome Irish giant, Finn McCool, as an attempt to reach his rival in Scotland. You can still see the traces he left – the Giant's Boot, the Wishing Chair, the Giant's Granny, The Organ and The Camel. Guests can visit the award-winning Giant's Causeway Visitor Centre to decide for themselves!

The Centre has innovative sustainability features including a grass roof grown from seeds collected from local fields, and a basalt exterior, quarried from the same lava flows that formed the Causeway. (Unless, of course, it really was Finn after all...)

Expert local guides lead groups from the Visitor Centre to the awe-inspiring Causeway stones. CSR activities with National Trust rangers can be added to programmes on discussion with team.

Carrick-a-Rede Rope Bridge 30

It's narrow, it spans a 20-metre chasm, Atlantic waves crash on rocks 23 metres below, it wobbles about in the breeze and sea birds actually fly beneath you... it's no cakewalk! Carrick-a-Rede Rope Bridge was originally a single-rope handrail with widely spaced slats that local fishermen would use to transport freshly caught salmon. Today's bridge is a more stable structure, but the walk across is still a genuinely exhilarating experience. And once they've made it all the way across, your guests will find they want to do it again. Well... maybe!

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

The Gobbins 31

Don your hard hat, high-vis jacket and hiking boots, and get ready for a high-octane experience along the towering basalt cliffs and heaving waves at the mouth of Belfast Lough.

Just 40 minutes from the centre of Belfast, the Gobbins cliff walk takes in twisting paths and steps hewn from the rock, vast caves, tunnels across waterfalls, a futuristic tubular bridge and a snaking suspended bridge. And of course, with a view out across the North Channel that will simply take your breath away. It's also a great place to witness rare birds like puffins and peregrine falcons in their natural environment.

Steensons Jewellers 32

To say it's picturesque is probably to do it an injustice - Glenarm village is much more than that. It's so pretty, it looks like a film set. It's so steeped in history and drama, it's hard to believe it could be so sleepy and quiet today.

Glenarm is one of the many villages along the Causeway Coastal Route and it's where you'll find Steensons Jewellers and workshop. This is a family affair and an official Économusée, which means guests have the chance to visit the workshop and see skilled jewellery-makers and goldsmiths at work, cutting, setting and polishing stones, and creating unique jewellery with a variety of metals and finishes.

All Steensons jewellery is designed and made on site in the workshop, including the dramatic range inspired by Game of Thrones® for which Steensons also make costume jewellery.

Scullion Hurls

Established in 1979, this family-run business specialises in the handcrafting of 'hurls', the sticks used in the fast-moving and ancient Irish sport of hurling. Scullion Hurls is an Économusée, a working museum where guests can tour the workshop and watch the sought-after Scullion hurley sticks being hand-carved, shaped and finished.

Guests can try their hand at hitting a sliotar (a ball) with their recently crafted hurl. It's not as easy as it looks! There's also a gift shop and interpretive centre providing information about the history of this uniquely Irish sport.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

Bushmills Distillery 34

Just over an hour from Belfast, this is a treat for whiskey lovers and history buffs alike. Bushmills Distillery, in the tiny village of Bushmills, is the oldest distillery on the island of Ireland, having been granted a licence to distil in 1608, and is now the most famous Irish whiskey in the world. It's also the only one to triple-distil its malt whiskey, making it uniquely smooth with a distinctive richness.

Guests can take a tour round the iconic distillery, and see the traditional copper pot stills and triple distillation process in action. They can explore the Mash House, Still House, Cask Store and Bottling Hall, and find out about the role of the River Bush and the importance of Madeira barrels and Spanish sherry casks. And after all that, enjoy a little dram by a roaring fire. What could be better?

You can also book private tasting sessions with Bushmills expert whiskey ambassadors.

Glenarm Castle 35

Guests' eyes will widen at this a real-life fairy tale castle! One of Ireland's oldest estates, 400 year old Glenarm Castle has been the home of the Earls of Antrim for hundreds of years, and it looks exactly like a magical scene from a picture book.

The Demesne is a working estate consisting of forest, farmland and the Glenarm River, and it's a gorgeous spot for walks through landscaped gardens. Plus there's quality home-cooked food in their Tea Room, housed in a former mushroom house where guests can dine on the famous Short-horn Glenarm beef, raised on the estate.

The castle offers private hire, bespoke accommodation and corporate dining, and they can also provide your own personal butler to help keep things running smoothly.

Royal Portrush 38

Tee off at one of the world's top ten courses, and follow in the footsteps of major winners Rory McIlroy, Graeme McDowell & Darren Clarke as your group takes to the fairways at Royal Portrush.

The club boasts two championship courses: the renowned Dunluce and the smaller but equally taxing Valley. The 148th Open Championship will be held here in 2019, and players will need to be ready for this tough course. The greens are scattered among huge sand dunes. Over-hit your second stroke at the 5th, White Rock, and you're in the Atlantic. On the notorious 14th (the ominously-named 'Calamity'), you need to carry your ball over a vast ravine. Mis-hit this one and you'll be taking your next swing from at least 50 feet below the hole... with more thrills than a rollercoaster, this a real treat for golf lovers.

ACCOMMODATION

Bushmills Inn 4*

The cosiest, most charming spot you're going to find, the Bushmills Inn is like a set from the Quiet Man, except everything is completely authentic. This quietly luxurious 4 star boutique hotel began life as an old coaching inn and mill house in the early 1600s, but now it's a member of Ireland's 'Blue Book', a prestigious collection of romantic hideaway hotels and country houses in unique and photogenic places.

The 41-room hotel is a stone's throw from the Giant's Causeway, Game of Thrones® locations, golf at Royal Portrush, and it's just over an hour from Belfast. It's regularly featured by travel writers and TV presenters not just because it's beautiful, but because the quality of the service and the local food are second to none. The restaurant in the Inn's 17th century stables has won an AA Rosette. With a traditional Gas Bar and roaring peat fires, this place epitomises the true spirit of Irish hospitality.

The award-winning restaurant covers 130 guests.

Galgorm Resort and Spa 4*

With the largest thermal spa in Europe, this luxury resort is only 35 minutes from the city of Belfast. Based around a handsome old manor house, the resort is set in 163 acres of parkland next to the clear waters of the River Maine where salmon and trout swim.

The hotel has 122 bedrooms including suites, deluxe, superior and standard rooms, plus Riverside Log Cabins and Fishermen's Cottages. The resort's Thermal Village is an al fresco spa space and the first of its kind in Ireland. There's a Beltane hot tub and open fire, riverside hot tubs and Celtic sauna. The temperamental weather is part of the experience and there are plenty of covered, heated and steamy areas to stay warm.

The resort has indoor and outdoor, traditional and quirky event spaces, plus Ireland's largest gin collection, corporate wellness packages, classic team building experiences and a talented team who can come up with even more ideas.

Three top notch function spaces can accommodate up to 320 for a gala dinner or reception. Four restaurants on-site from Italian to 3AA Rosette, plus a Gin library, this is an ideal base for a memorable incentive programme.

The resort is adjacent to Galgorm Castle Golf Club, home of the Northern Ireland Open, a European Challenge Tour event.

NI Food Tours <sup>44</sup>

Here's a tasty treat. On the peaceful shores of Strangford Lough, just 30 minutes from Belfast, guests can join their host Tracey in her 18th century thatched farmhouse for a truly authentic and immersive experience. They can try their hand at making traditional Irish breads and enjoy them with hand rolled butters and homemade jams. They can also enjoy a wonderful lunch of local food and drink.

This delicious experience can be tailored to your programme for up to 40 guests. Each guest will receive a gift box of traditional bread mix and a copy of the recipes used, so they can take the experience home and share it with family and friends.

Guests can also get knee deep at an oyster farm where oyster farmer Patrice explains how he grows and cultivates his oysters and mussels.

Guests travel in style on Patrice's tractor and trailer to the oyster beds and afterwards head back to his Oyster Shack in the beautiful Bay at Killough for a feast of shellfish all locally harvested from less than a mile away. This is immersive foodie fun at its best!

Montalto Estate <sup>45</sup>

Wow just isn't big enough for this restored 19th century threshing mill at Montalto Estate. A Grade B listed building, and one of the most exclusive venues in Northern Ireland, it's so beautiful, it will surprise and delight even those who claim to have seen everything!

The venue can accommodate clay pigeon shooting, zip line, fly fishing, falconry, archery, wine tasting, kayaking, cookery demonstrations, summer parties, bbqs, concerts, gala dinners, treasure hunts and more.

Guests can spend the afternoon wandering the Walled Garden with a drink in hand, or play traditional garden games before moving into the banquet hall. With exposed walls, vaulted ceilings and wooden beams, this is a refined and distinctive setting for a gala dinner. Capacity 60 – 180

Rademon Estate Distillery 46

It's always a win when there's a gin, which makes Rademon Estate in Co. Down a very tasty find! Only 30 minutes from Belfast, it's one of the oldest estates in Ireland and has been distilling the multi-award winning Shortcross Gin since 2014.

The uniquely aromatic flavour of Shortcross is created using fresh apples, elderflowers, elderberries and wild clover harvested from the estate, distilled alongside classic gin botanicals. Guests can take the Gin & Whiskey Experience Tour, talk with the Head Distiller, have a Gin & Tonic Masterclass with the brand ambassador, and learn the history of the estate.

With a fully licenced private indoor and outdoor event space, and great relationships with quality food and drink producers in the area, Rademon provides lots of scope for bespoke events, private dining and receptions in an events space that overlooks the low rolling hills of County Down.

The Echlinville Distillery 47

The Echlinville Distillery became Northern Ireland's first licenced distillery in over 125 years distilling its first spirit in 2013. Their famous Jawbox Gin is a rare commodity, a spirit inspired by the essence of Belfast city itself: creative, adventurous and innovative. Jawbox is a gin brand for those who enjoy every moment.

Their extraordinary new still house is not only a functional space for production but can easily lend itself to entertaining guests and tours which can offer a real insight into the workings of an operational distillery.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

Mourne Trails & Ales Tour Experience

Got an adventurous and creative bunch to incentivise? Then Mourne Trails & Ales Tour Experience is perfect. Operated by a leading adventure activity company based in Castlewellan Forest Park, it's less than an hour from Belfast, and will keep your guests fully engaged and inspired from start to finish.

This fully guided electric bike tour takes them through the stunning Mourne landscape, exploring awesome local trails and sampling local craft ales along the way. Guests experience the spectacular landscape that inspired C.S.Lewis's Narnia and the rich local heritage, myths and legends (and the odd controversy!) that provided the inspiration for the ales themselves.

Mount Stewart <sup>48</sup>

Mount Stewart, nestled on the banks of Strangford Lough, not only boasts a most stunning example of an 19th century country home, but also the gardens are considered some of the top gardens in the world. It must be the climate which helps support a strong Mediterranean feel, while resembling an Italian villa landscape. The house itself is a joy; now re-opened after a multi-million restoration project by the National Trust. Whether it's the beautifully ornate halls and dining rooms, or bedrooms named after European capitals, the elegance and charm of Mount Stewart is there to discover. Your programme can include a private tour of the gardens with the resident head gardener.

Royal County Down <sup>49</sup>

What is it about Royal County Down that prompted the panellists of Golf Digest to declare it the Number One course in the world for the third year in a row? Maybe it's the ribbons of fairways – so beautiful yet so punishing – that thread their way through the sand dunes amid the spectacular setting of Murlough Nature Reserve on the shores of Dundrum Bay.

It could have been the famous ancient 'bearded' bunkers edged with marram, red fescue and heather. Or the fast, domed greens.

Maybe it was, as golf writer Bernard Darwin said, because Royal County Down offers 'big and glorious carries, nestling greens, entertainingly blind shots, local knowledge and beautiful turf – the kind of golf that people play in their most ecstatic dreams'.

This unforgettable course has a worldwide reputation and is a real treat (and challenge) for golf lovers.

For something totally unique, a real hidden gem, Ballywalter Park is a beautifully restored Irish historic house and the home of Lord & Lady Dunleath. In the same family for 170 years, the Mansion House was built in the Italianate Palazzo style by the eminent architect Sir Charles Lanyon and has been afforded Grade A* listing.

12 ensuite bedrooms and original period rooms make this an evocative location for receptions and dinners. The Drawing Room is a glittering venue for up to 80 guests. Dinners are prepared by the in-house team under the supervision of Lady Dunleath (who's also a professional food historian) using produce grown on the Estate, complemented by vintage wines from the house cellars.

Guests also have use of the Demesne which extends to 270 acres, and is a great place for activities like the Game of Thrones® experience, falconry and clay pigeon shooting. Cookery schools also form part of the programme itinerary.

Florence Court

Operated by the National Trust, this handsome Georgian 18th century mansion is just five minutes from Enniskillen in the foothills of Cuilcagh Mountain, and set within extensive, landscaped grounds where guests can discover the parent tree of every single Irish yew.

Florence Court is the creation of three successive generations of the Cole family, who were powerful Fermanagh landowners with roots in the plantations of the 17th century. The foundations were laid by Sir John Cole, who romantically named the house after his wife, Florence Bourchier Wray.

The lively neo-classical interiors give a sense of grandeur and magnificence to corporate events and dining. The Blue Room, located off the first floor landing of the main house and formerly part of the living quarters of the Cole family, can accommodate 16. The octagonal Colonel's Room with its coved ceiling and fine marble chimney piece has gala dinner capacities for 32 guests.

ACCOMMODATION

Bishop's Gate Hotel

This historic Grade B1-listed boutique hotel in the centre of the walled city is housed in a 19th century former gentleman's club which once attracted the likes of Winston Churchill and W. B. Yeats. It's been sensitively restored to retain its character, period details and class, and opened just two years ago. After only one year of trading, it was named the second best hotel in the whole of the UK by Tripadvisor and it's easy to see why. The 30 guestrooms - including two suites - are very grand, yet wonderfully comfortable. Colour schemes, textures, technology - attention to detail is everything. Expect superb, locally sourced food from an inspired and multi award-winning chef and kitchen team in the hotel's The Gown restaurant - they recently picked up a coveted Rosette Award from the AA.

As a place originally designed for great minds to discuss great ideas, the hotel comes equipped with inspired rooms for gatherings and events. They can put together bespoke programmes for incentives clients.

Everglades Hotel 4*

A quick 5 minute drive from the centre of Derry~Londonderry on the south bank of the city's River Foyle, stands the modern 4 star Everglades Hotel. With views to the hills of Donegal and with Derry Golf Club on the doorstep, it's a great base for relaxing, golfing or exploring the north west of Ireland.

The hotel has 64 bedrooms including 3 suites, and an excellent restaurant where guests are treated to the freshest, locally sourced ingredients and local specialities like wheaten scones, Glenarm salmon, Portavogie prawns and Glastry Farm ice cream. Even breakfast is worth a mention: go big with the full Irish breakfast with potato bread and black pudding, or go (almost) healthy with Bushmills Whiskey porridge.

The hotel comes with a conference centre with 4 executive suites and a Grand Ballroom that can fit 650 theatre style or 400 at round tables. Quality food and excellent corporate facilities mean the hotel attracts many repeat clients.

Beech Hill Country House Hotel 4*

Set in 32 acres of woodland and gardens with ponds and waterfalls, this genteel Georgian hotel is just two miles from Derry~Londonderry's centre and can count Bill Clinton and Ted Kennedy among its patrons.

Built in 1729 on a site that has been inhabited since before the Plantation of Ulster in the 1600s, the hotel incorporates a 250 year old house and a new wing. It comes with 31 bedrooms and 5 suites, one with a four poster bed. The hotel's original walled garden is thought to be one of the oldest in the country and supplies fresh produce to the restaurant, where the head chef and his team use concepts from a historic recipe book found on the site, belonging to a previous owner of the house.

Guests can enjoy a tranquil horse-riding experience and gourmet packed lunch. Guides will keep them entertained with stories about the landscape and local characters as they meander along lush fields and peaceful country lanes.

Beech Hill can accommodate gala dinners for up to 350 guests in a luxurious marquee pavilion located next to the hotel. The marquee comes fully equipped with kitchen, bar and outdoor patio area

The Best of the Rest

Northern Ireland might be small, but it's crammed full of unique experiences from coast to coast. Here are a few more to whet your appetite!

Larchfield Estate, Co. Down

Baronscourt Estate, Co. Tyrone

Ulster American Folk Park, Co. Tyrone

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES & VENUES

Ulster American Folk Park

Immerse guests in the story of Irish Emigration at the museum that brings it all to life - from the thatched cottages of Ulster, a full-scale emigrant sailing ship, to the log cabins of the American Frontier. They'll meet an array of costumed characters on their way with tales to tell and food to share!

This is a wonderfully eclectic experience for guests, full of rustic charm, storytelling and outdoorsy beauty. They can get hands on with crafts, sample and perhaps bake some quirky foods, and enjoy in-depth chats with the costumed visitor guides. The team at the Ulster American Folk Park can curate an unforgettable experience in every sense.

With such a unique venue, dinner will be anything but ordinary too – guests can enjoy the whiskey or gin bar on Ulster Street before ambling along the cobbles to take in the sights and sounds of the Park. Whether you're turning down the lights in a cool marquee or turning up the music in our Ship & Dockside Gallery, an event here will definitely be unique.

Armagh Cathedrals

An important ecclesiastical site, Armagh is a city with two cathedrals – one Church of Ireland, the other Roman Catholic. In keeping with another Armagh Christian link, both are named after Saint Patrick.

Saint Patrick's Cathedral (Church of Ireland)

Saint Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, founded his main church on this site in 445 A.D., though the current structure dates back to the 12th century. It was to here that the body of Irish High King Brian Boru was brought to be buried in 1014. The cathedral features 24 awe-inspiring stained-glass windows and an 11th century carved stone high cross.

Saint Patrick's Cathedral (Roman Catholic)

With its twin spires visible for many miles, Saint Patrick's Roman Catholic Cathedral was an epic 60 years in the making. Begun in 1840, it was finally completed and consecrated in 1904. The church was extensively restored in 2003 and its numerous impressive features include a magnificent gothic altar, as well as several large-scale works by contemporary Irish artists. Bespoke tours of the cathedral and choral singing are available.
